PRESIDENT'S LETTER

During the COVID-19 crisis of 2020, Franklin Wright Settlements Inc. never stopped serving the community. We simply moved forward, pivoting, when necessary, to alternate methods of service delivery while maintaining our high degree of quality for the individuals and families we serve.

In 2020, the world changed in a big way. No longer were we immune from harm because of our zip code, nationality, race, religion, or creed. Humanity was confronted with a pandemic unlike anything we've experienced since 1918. Throughout our struggle with COVID-19, we witnessed horrifying death tolls, inexplicable illness, and epic failures in systems we rely on. Although COVID-19 crossed many socio-economic, national, and racial borders, some communities suffered far greater than others. Poorer communities, underserved neighborhoods, and people of color bore the brunt of the blows COVID-19 would inflict. It is in these moments of crisis and need that Franklin Wright Settlements rises to the occasion and displays the organization's greatest value.

During the COVID-19 crisis, Franklin Wright Settlements never stopped serving our community. We simply moved forward, pivoting, when necessary, to alternate methods of service delivery while maintaining our high degree of quality for the individuals and families we serve. Our Early Start Education Program functioned dually, providing both virtual learning and in-class learning for children of frontline workers. All early education service delivery was provided with strict protocols for safety. While delivering high-quality education services to children, Early Start renewed its childcare license and saw three (3) Early Start Teachers complete the Child Development Associate Degree program (CDA) and participate in multiple professional learning and development seminars. Providing only the best-in-class curriculums, the Early Start Education Program implements the High Scope Infant and Toddler curriculum as well as the High Scope Pre-School Curriculum. Both learning protocols are best in the nation in practical pedagogical tools, emphasizing active participatory learning.

MONIQUE D. MARKS

Franklin Wright Settlements delivered 100 tons of food to those in need. We helped displaced teen families on the streets of Detroit find housing. Our Senior Outreach service delivery has continued to excel. We continued to care for and engage our senior citizens diligently during this pandemic. As with our Seniors, we were explicitly focused on our youth. Our Out of School Time Program was expanded to capture the idle time young people suddenly found themselves experiencing due to Covid-19 shutdowns, and we increased our social, emotional enrichment across all of our youth programming platforms.

No facet of community life was ignored in our service delivery process. Our team understood the need to step up service delivery levels during this unique time in our collective history. Our Family Growth and Development Program allowed us to facilitate utility assistance, distribute food, find adequate housing, and provide therapeutic services to hundreds of individuals and families in need.

As the greater community went into lockdown and scaled-down activity, Franklin Wright Settlements, along with other partnering organizations, embraced our status as frontline workers, and we managed all of this while adhering to strict safety protocols to ensure the health and well-being of our staff and the citizens we serve. I am eternally grateful to the dedicated and hardworking team, Board of Trustees, volunteers, and friends of Franklin Wright Settlements. Your willingness to sacrifice, work hard, and display compassion has forever impacted those you serve. Together, we have managed to thrive during a unique crisis. As we have done throughout our 140-year existence, Franklin Wright Settlements saw a critical need in the community and did not hesitate to step in, step up, and fill the void.

We were great in 2020, and we look forward to being even greater in 2021!

PRESIDENT

MONIQUE D. MARKS, LMSW

FRANKLIN WRIGHT SETTLEMENTS, INC.

BOARD CHAIR LETTER

Greetings!

As Chair of the Board of Franklin Wright Settlements, I am pleased to report that the state of our beloved organization is stronger than ever. In the face of a global pandemic that has forever changed whatever we used to call normal, Franklin Wright Settlements has met the new challenges head-on.

Under the leadership of our President and CEO, Monique Marks, the work of this organization has persevered, prospered and moved forward by creatively providing services to those who require our love, support and care. We salute Mrs. Marks for her outstanding leadership.

Finally, words cannot express the commitment and dedication of our staff. The success of any organization begins with leadership, and it ends with the competent and compassionate execution of assigned duties that are efficiently and effectively delivered to our clients. I'm a pastor at heart and believe this is the Lord's work. We are not a church, but caring for the "least of these" in our community is a work that originates in the soul and flows from the heart. Thanks, each of your, for your work.

I also want to express my appreciation to our outstanding Board members. They have generously given of their support to FWS through their time, talents and treasure.

As we celebrate and give thanks for the opportunity to serve others, may God continue to bless our work together.

Grace, Peace and Divine Health.

BOARD CHAIR

REV. DR. KENNETH E. HARRIS

PRESIDENT, ECUMENICAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Honoring Those on the Frontlines of the Pandemic

"This honor is just a small token of Franklin Wright's appreciation for the service of these amazing community leaders - Kirk Mayes, Ron Taylor and Dr. Darienne Hudson. They made it possible for Franklin Wright to persevere through this pandemic. They are super heroes."

- Monique Marks, President & CEO
Franklin Wright Settlements

Emotions were high at Franklin Wright's Annual Spirit of Giving Awards which was held mid-December of 2020. Franklin Wright honored community leaders who stepped up and went above and beyond the call of duty to help those in need as a result of the devastating affects of the coronavirus pandemic.

Honorees included: Kirk Mayes, President & CEO, Forgotten Harvest; Dr. Darienne Driver Hudson, President & CEO of the United Way and Ronald S. Taylor, President and CEO of the Detroit Area Agency on Aging. During the pandemic, each of our 2020 honorees continuously reached out to Franklin Wright to make sure extra food and funds were provided to help the organization reach further into the community to meet the increased need caused by COVID-19.

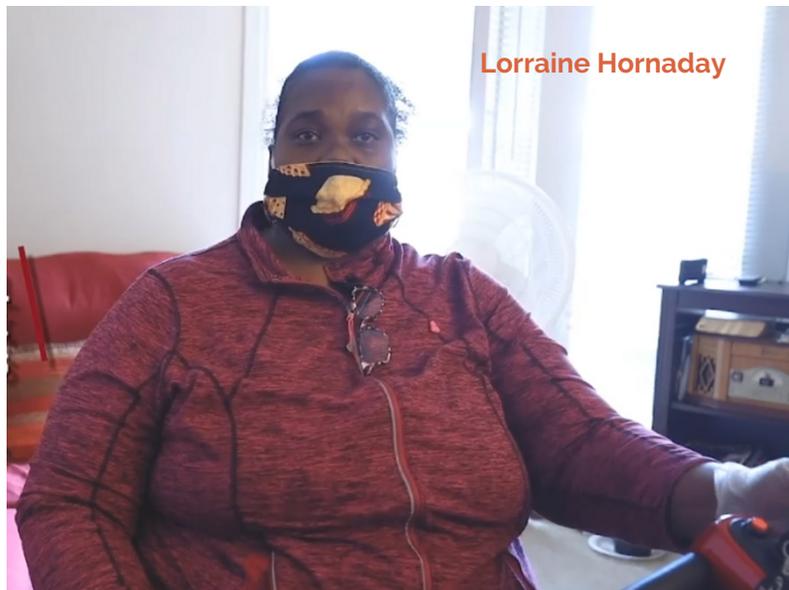

The spirit of giving was a month-long affair that began with Giving Tuesday. Hundreds of individuals and organizations donated to Franklin Wright for the annual day of giving making it even more possible for the organization to help those in need. Donations were matched by MGM Grand Detroit Touching Communities Touching Lives.

"Both Giving Tuesday and Spirit of Giving were overwhelmingly successful," said Monique Marks, president and CEO of Franklin Wright. "On behalf of the many children, families and seniors we serve, a heartfelt thank you to everyone for their generous donations. We cannot thank you enough."

Fear, isolation and the inaccessibility of basic life necessities were the result of a community rocked by the COVID-19 pandemic that took its toll on communities across the world regardless of age, race, or economic status. Despite the shock to all of our lives, there was no demographic more struck by the pandemic than the senior population — the demographic most at risk of contracting the disease.

The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic altered the daily routines of families and caregivers. As shelter-in-place orders took hold, the workforce shifted operations to work from home routines. Consequently, many senior centers and programs that offer critical services to older adults were forced to shut down and for many never to reopen again.

Throughout the pandemic, Franklin Wright Settlements kept its doors and services open to older adults through our Senior Outreach Services (S.O.S.) Program. In swift response to COVID-19, Franklin Wright quickly increased its services and support to older adults, with our Direct Care Workers becoming the heroes, working non-stop to provide critical care and support.

Lorraine Hornaday

Helping Seniors Remain Healthy, Safe and Independent

An active participant in Franklin Wright's Project Choice Program, 60-year-old Lorraine Hornaday was comforted by the senior services. Thanks to Franklin Wright and Tania - one of 140 Direct Care Workers - throughout the pandemic, Ms. Hornaday continued to receive in-home chore services, light cleaning, errands, personal care and basic hygiene assistance.

While many homebound seniors have been forced to isolate themselves - even from their own families due to their susceptibility to the disease - our caregivers have become family to them. They not only provide services, but a listening ear and bridge that spans to the outside world.

*We salute all of our Direct Care Workers
for a job well done!*

Providing Compassionate Care Through COVID-19

Senior Outreach Services (S.O.S.) comprises several programs through our partnership with Detroit Area Agency on Aging (DAAA), Molina Healthcare of Michigan, and Focus Hope to support area residents who are of senior age.

As a service provider, Franklin-Wright Settlements' goal is to make sure seniors remain healthy, safe, and independent. We support our seniors by offering congregate meals, transportation, socialization, enhanced fitness and access to community resources and the most appropriate and affordable combination of services that help them stay vibrant and active in the community for as long as possible with our help.

Supporting Children and Their Families Through COVID-19

In March 2020, as everything ground to a halt because of COVID-19, Franklin Wright's Early Childhood Development program was faced with a new challenge -- supporting childcare programs, early childhood educators, children, and their families through an unprecedented shift in the way we work and live. With the full focus and dedication of the team, we faced the challenge head on.

Initially, our Early Start staff began working from home conducting virtual classes via Zoom. In September our Early Start Center re-opened with new safety protocols for our everyday routine. Virtual classrooms continued for students who chose to continue learning at home.

During the pandemic, our Child Care License was renewed, and all of our teachers have continued professional learning, including three who completed their Child Development Associate Degree (CDA).

We Invest in Our Children

Franklin Wright believes in the importance of providing children with high quality, developmentally appropriate, learning environments to give all students the very best start at learning. All of our classrooms implement the HighScope Infant & Toddler or HighScope Preschool Curriculum, placing an emphasis on active participatory learning. The interests and choices of children are the foundation of our classrooms, as our staff supports them by playing an active, and intentional, role in guiding and extending student learning. Our Early Childhood Programs provide a daily balance of developmentally appropriate learning, while also incorporating curriculum elements of our district's Kindergarten classrooms.

Enriching Youth Now More Than Ever

In response to the pandemic, Franklin Wright's Out of School Time (OOST) program served the largest population of youth and students in the history of the program. To help those most impacted by the pandemic, the program expanded to include students who were not regularly enrolled in the program and attention shifted to social-emotional enrichment within our Teen Center, Summer Enrichment and Grow Detroit's Young Talent Programs.

As COVID-19 became the "new normal," we shifted our programming to virtual platforms Zoom and Google Hangouts as a means to keep students and youth engaged. Virtually working shoulder-to-shoulder more than 150 youth in our Grow Detroit's

Young Talent Program spent 5-weeks working in the Virtual Job Shadow Program. Each student received a Google Chromebook equipped with 3-months of free HOTSPOT internet. Our students were thrilled to receive their Chromebooks, which allowed them to access several online platforms to further assist in their social-emotional learning experience.

Leveraging Partnerships

Detroit Collegiate High School

Franklin Wright partnered with Detroit Collegiate High School to build comprehensive programming for our Teen Center Program. Each week, students focused on college preparation and job readiness through "career and college cluster" sessions. Sessions provided opportunities for students to sharpen their professional development skills to become future leaders.

Through our Career Cluster Program students gained insightful knowledge about their chosen career path. Industry leaders such as Judge Rebecka Coleman, Courtney Randolph, of the Beauty Founders Academy, DJ Mike Todd, and City of Detroit Health Director Denise Fair, shared a wealth of knowledge and wisdom with our students.

Michigan Science Center

As students prepared to attend school virtually, Franklin Wright hosted a fun-filled accelerated Virtual Summer Camp Program, "Explore Detroit Virtual Experience," to help students become more comfortable with virtual learning. Students explored famous landmarks and museums and indulged in cooking courses presented by Trap Kitchen. They prepared delicious treats and with the help of the Michigan Science Center's Virtual Learning Program, Franklin Wright students learned about marine biology and ocean wildlife.

Detroit Employment Solutions

Franklin Wright was awarded a grant from Detroit Employment Solutions to host the Grow Detroit Young Talent Program. With more than 40 students in the program, the youth at Franklin Wright had the opportunity to continue their professional development. They also received a stipend.

Genesis Hope

In partnership with Genesis Hope and the "Nutrition Works Program," every Tuesday, Franklin Wright distributes 200 meals to youth. Genesis Hope is an organization that teaches youth kitchen and cooking basis through hands-on demonstrations. Throughout the pandemic, that number steadily increased as regular sources of food and other necessities for youth closed due to the pandemic.

Macy's

Macy's Department Store donated hundreds of prom dresses for Franklin Wright youth and young women in the community. Franklin Wright has made these dresses available brightening the smiles of young women throughout Detroit.

Meet Franklin "Frank" Thomas

Franklin Thomas, or Frank as he prefers to be called, entered Franklin Wright's After School Enrichment Program at the age of 12. Quite the introvert when he arrived, Frank preferred not to speak publicly. However, whenever he shared his thoughts on a particular subject, he was quite profound. Bertram Marks, Manager of Community Engagement and Outreach and personal mentor to Frank, began to encourage him to speak up more around his peers and during group sessions.

For many years, Frank struggled academically. Working closely with him Bertram noticed that his academic failures were not due to a lack of aptitude. Instead, he was not doing well in school because he lacked organization. Bertram helped him to develop a learning plan that focused on public speaking, organizing subjects into spiral notebooks, and managing after school time to allow for a minimum of three hours of study.

Our After School Enrichment program goals include helping students to achieve academic, social, and physical fitness excellence. The program also strives to provide a listening and therapeutic ear in a very informal, non-intrusive way.

Franklin was eager to implement the new protocols that were designed to improve his grades. Bertram made a commitment to help train and prepare him to try out for his school's football team if he improved in his studies. Frank's grades improved drastically! He tried out, made the team, later became a starter and ultimately made team captain.

Franklin graduated high school in 2020 and is now a full time employee and valued team member at Franklin Wright. A true success story, He plans to enroll in college in the fall of 2021.

Franklin Wright is proud of the young man Frank has become today.

"I am often reminded by our CEO, Mrs. Monique Marks, that we may not be able to help everyone here at Franklin Wright, but when we help just one, we are erasing the stigma of being labeled and tossed aside because of socio-economic status. I am so motivated by the power of helping our community one person at a time. I am perpetually encouraged by Mrs. Marks and our mission to improve the quality of every life we touch."

- Bertram Marks, Manager
Community Engagement and Outreach

Ameythyst's Story

"This was a difficult year and the pandemic made everything much harder for me. I am so grateful for everything that Franklin Wright and Mrs. Marks were able to do for my family! I am excited to move with my children into a new home after being homeless. I'm able to start a career in the hospitality industry before the New Year!"

- Ameythyst S.

Franklin Wright Helps Many Families Like Ameythyst's

In partnership with the United Way, Franklin Wright was able to provide assistance to more than 1,500 clients through its Low-Income Self-Sufficiency Plan (LSP) program during the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic. Taking precautions by working from home, United Way provided support to the community by remotely handling the LSP enrollment process.

Low-Income Self-Sufficiency Plan (LSP)

1500 Individuals

Like 330 million Americans, Ameythyst S. found herself struggling to adapt to the new pandemic guidelines and restrictions. Unable to work and provide homeschooling for her three young children, she unfortunately found herself homeless and unemployed.

Hopelessness and anxiety began to consume Ameythyst as she struggled to provide food and shelter for her young family. Desperate and out of options to feed her children, she reached out to Franklin Wright Settlements.

President & CEO of Franklin Wright Settlements, Monique Marks, warmly embraced the young mother and worked closely with her to ensure that she and her children had fresh food, warm clothing, and a safe place to shelter.

In just a few short weeks after contacting Franklin Wright, Ameythyst was able to secure affordable housing just in time for the holiday season. Her family was also nominated and adopted by the UAW's Adopt-A-Family for Christmas program.

Ameythyst praises Franklin Wright for providing support and connecting her with resources during her time of need.

During the most ominous phase of the pandemic, Franklin Wright intensified their efforts and adapted to an entirely new way of providing services to individuals and families. Extending partnerships with agencies such as Forgotten Harvest, Gleaners, Focus Hope, Tom Maceri, and the Detroit Food Bank – Franklin Wright’s CEO and staff worked tirelessly to ensure that all individuals and families were provided with meals every week throughout the year. Each week Franklin Wright partners with Forgotten Harvest to receive fresh fruit, vegetables, and other food items to distribute to individuals and families in need. Approximately 1500 lbs of food is secured and delivered every week.

Franklin Wright provided hot nutritious meals - prepared by the staff - blankets, hygiene kits, PPE, warm clothing, and words of encouragement at Feed the Homeless events. Due to COVID-19, the staff practiced social distancing and safety precautions while hitting the streets of Detroit.

The goal of the In-Home program is to reunify families and increase their level of functioning. 87% of clients served by Franklin Wright successfully completed their treatment goals. The remaining 13% have either had their therapy dismissed by the court, voluntarily discontinued therapy, or were ordered to receive services from another agency.

In August 2020, Franklin-Wright completed an annual audit conducted by Assured Family Services (AFS), receiving a score of 91%.
